

CENTRE AWARDS FOR 2008

At a ceremony held Monday, 10 November, 2008, the Centre's awards for 2008 were presented. The winners were:

Outstanding Evolution and Ecology (Postgraduate) Researcher

Awarded for outstanding overall research performance in 2008

Matthew Hall
Katherine Dafforn
(joint winners)

Outstanding Evolution and Ecology (Postgraduate) Paper

Awarded for the significance and originality of the research

Matthew Hall, Luc Bussière, John Hunt and Robert Brooks

Experimental evidence that sexual conflict influences the opportunity, form and intensity of sexual selection. Evolution 62: 2305-2315 (2008)

Outstanding Evolution and Ecology Thesis

Awarded for the significance and originality of research, research output, and documented evidence of impact

David Roberts

Responses of algal epifauna to pulsed and chronic contamination of temperate algal beds.

Outstanding Presentation E&ERC Forum

Awarded for outstanding research presentation

Laura Warman

Alternative stable states in the wet tropics of Australia

E&ERC Citation Classic Award

Number of 2008 citations (to November): 41

Russell Bonduriansky

The evolution of male mate choice in insects: a synthesis of ideas and evidence. Biological Reviews 76: 305-339 (2001)

E&ERC Impact Paper Award

Impact Factor (2007 JCR Science Edition):10.5

Alex Maklakov, S J Simpson, Felix Zajitschek, Matthew Hall, J Dessmann, F Clissold, D Raubenheimer, Russell Bonduriansky, Robert Brooks

Sex-specific fitness effects of nutrient intake on reproduction and lifespan. Current Biology 18: 1062-1066 (2008)

E&ERC Significant Collaboration Award

Angela Moles, M A M Gruber, Stephen Bonser

A new framework for predicting invasive plant species. Journal of Ecology 96: 13-17 (2008)