

Two new Centre students receive Academic Excellence Awards

Two new PhD students in the Centre, Ceiwen Pease and Alex Carthey, have been awarded UNSW Academic Excellence Awards in 2009. These prestigious awards provide $10,000 every year on top of the Australian Postgraduate Award (APA).

Ceiwen is beginning a PhD in evolutionary ecotoxicology in the Emma Johnston lab in 2009 and Alex will be pursuing his PhD in Peter Banks' lab.
